SUBJECT: Disposal of Housing Demolition from Richmond Urban Renewal Project

On December 21, 1976, I met with Tom Atkinson of the Wayne County Health Department, and Bob Goodwin, Director of the Richmond Zoning and Planning office, to discuss the disposal of the demolition debris being generated by a city beautification project. Approximately 20 buildings will be destroyed every 60-90 days for the next four to five years. We looked at two potential disposal sites: the John Manville solid fill site on Northwest L and the Richmond City landfill on New Paris Pike. We also observed where this material is currently being illegally deposited along the New Paris Pike. My personal recommendations were that an agreement be negotiated with the Richmond Sanitary District to put this debris in an unused portion of the landfill and arrange for it to be covered at weekly intervals, constructing weekly cells that would minimize the fire hazard.
